"Because JIWA is a Windows-based package, little training was required. While it is not easy getting used to a new package, the on-screen facilities are very helpful. Anyone who is familiar with Microsoft products will have little difficulty adapting to JIWA. In appearance, it resembles Access or Excel and links well with these products."

"JH Computer Services is now able to prepare an update sheet for all of its clients via facsimile. The task is accomplished by JIWA in about an hour. The benefits are obvious."
